PLENTY OF SOLE

Everybody was devastated a couple of years ago when the bestseller "Jaws" came out in theatres across the country, showing the trauma of the Great White's attack on unsuspecting swimmers off a New England beach.

Recently, I read where a Houstonite is going to take on such a shark, 400 teeth at 40 miles an hour toward him. At least that is what he told a newspaper interviewer.

Perhaps adventurer Dick Mimms, of Houston, knows more than we all saw in "Jaws." Perhaps he knows about a little fish called Pardachirus.

This is a little sole, nicknamed the Moses sole because it is found in the Gulf of Aqaba (the northeast arm of the Red Sea), which repels sharks. In fact, its deadly milk-like excretion stops just about anything. And this is according to a 1974 article in National Geographic by Eugenie Clark, shark expert and professor of zoology at the university of Maryland.

Scientists tossed one of these soles into a shark aquarium at Hebrew University's marine biology lab at Elat.

Two reel whitetip sharks there (it is, after all, their pool) circled this sole, which was tied to a string. And, to quote: "But each time a shark attempted to take a bite, the outcome was the same: jaws agape, as if unable to close."

The Moses sole is apparently an absolute stunner. One part of its milk in 5,000 parts seawater "killed every small fish tested in a matter of minutes. . .," a moray eel "could not lay a tooth on Pardachirus, but instead writhed backward in a hurried escape."

Barracuda even.

Now if a moray eel, a barracuda, and two whitetip sharks won't mess with a Pardachirus, why would a Great White be immune to heavy doses of the Moses sole's milk at, say, one part in 100 parts of seawater, which by these biologists' accounts would stop a train of whales.

Tests show the muceous stuff attacks both the victims' nervous and blood systems. In fact, it is so toxic it counteracts the effects of venom of scorpions, bees, coral snakes, cobras, etc.

Perhaps Mimms is training with a school of Pardachirus right now, stunning and maiming almost everything seaward he points them at.

Mimms, of couse, could suffer accidential wounds and cuts as the Great White goes ripping by, mouth agape, a paralyzed eating machine.

Few have been bitten in half or consumed whole by any shark, according to the record, but they've often lost a few pounds as a shark-mouth full of teeth scrapes by.

If Mimms chooses to keep his commitment with a ramming Great White, as unto death, he might make the ultimate sacrifice, alter his sex, meet the creature at least a fathom deep, and confirm the record that no female below that depth has ever been attacked by a shark.

Or if he takes along enough female Moses soles, the greatest Great White in the Gulf (they are most plentiful off Florida) might spend the next 100 years trying to find the Arabian Gulf.

City Ambulance Service Starts

TUESDAY MORNING'S STORM dumped a gully-washer of a rain, while winds played havoc with leaves and tree limbs. Frank Hubnik of 1108 W. Main awoke to find this redbud tree collapsed on his pickup truck, but a "headache rack" protected the cab from more than slight damage.

Midnight Oct. 1 Date Of Change For North Milam

Citizens of Cameron and North Milam County are reminded that effective midnight Oct. 1, 1976 the city of Cameron will take over the ambulance service for these areas.

Anyone needing an ambulance should call 817-697-6574 which is the Cameron police station and an ambulance will be dispatched immediately.

Rates for the ambulance service will be $25 base charge per person for a transfer call and $35 base charge per person for an emergency call. An additional 60 cents per mile will be charged for calls made outside the city limits of Cameron.

Anyone living in Cameron who wishes to help with the Volunteer Ambulance Service is urged to contact any member of the Cameron Ambulance Service. Another ECA (Emergency Care Attendant) course will be given as soon as possible for those persons interested in taking the course.

Firemen Plan Observance Of Special Week

Cameron will observe Fire Prevention Week starting Sunday, Oct. 3 through the following Saturday. Several events are planned to call attention to the importance of fire prevention and the volunteer fire department's job in putting fires out.

There is only one paid employee in the local fire department who is the driver, on duty 24 hours a day, six days a week. The 30 others are strictly volunteers who receive no compensation for being called out any hour of the day or night. They furnish their own transportation to get to the fires.

Several demonstrations of fire fighting techniques will be shown by the entire volunteer department at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 6 on the vacant lot and on S. Houston Avenue in front of city hall. An old automobile will be set on fire, the main alarm sounded, and fire fighters will put out the fire. The methods used will be explained over a public address system.

Pumper races will also take place on the street in front of city hall.

Questions will be answered by any of the firemen, who learn by experience or by attending classes at A&M Fire Training School. The public is invited and urged to come and meet their firemen.

CofC Seeking New Members

The Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce is holding a membership drive today (Thursday) with a men's team and a ladies' team canvassing the area.

Anyone interested in joining the chamber, either as a business or an individual, is invited to call the chamber office for information.

Mrs. Gerry Prazak, of Rt. 2, Rockdale, has been named Herald area editor, succeeding Mrs. Patti Mikulec.

Her duties also will include classified ad management.

Mrs. Prazak formerly worked in the city circulation department of the Houston Post and the credit department of Three Sisters Dept. Store, Waco, where she attended public schools.

She is married to Arnold J. Prazak, and they have three children. Enjoying raising tropical fish and camping, she has traveled in Mexico, France and Germany.

Flood Hazards Warning Issued By City Official

The City of Cameron has been advised of special flood hazard areas within the corporate limits of the city by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, according to E. A. Bigbee, city code inspector.

Bigbee said the areas have been designated on a map of the city which is available in the secretary's office at city hall, so that residents may have knowledge of where these areas are.

The city council has instructed the building department not to issue any more building permits for construction in the flood-prone areas.

"This is a warning to all prospective purchasers and builders not to expect the city of Cameron to bail you out or correct any poor or bad drainage conditions which may not be economically feasible or even possible to correct," Bigbee said.

"As a prudent and knowledgeable purchaser of a prospective building location, you should make a thorough investigation of possible flood conditions before you make a purchase of an existing building or building location," he added.

New Building Planned For Ben Milam Post

Ben Milam Post 2010 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars announces the immediate construction of a new home for the Post.

The building will be of metal on a concrete slab with 8,000 square feet of floor under one roof. The building will be designed so that three or more functions can be held at one time.

The building will be fully air conditioned and when complete will be open to the public for civic and private functions on a rental basis.

The new facility will be built on five acres of land situated on the west side of Cameron between the old Temple highway and the new Temple highway.

When complete, cost of the building will be in excess of $80,000 and financing for the venture is being furnished by the First National Bank in Cameron. Epperson Refrigeration is the general contractor.

Local Alcoans Move To Unit Supervisors

Two Alcoans from Cameron are among seven unit supervisory promotions announced at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works by production manager Bob Sugg.

Tapper carbon changers Homer Mowdy, William Mueck, Rayschell Garcia; pot tenders Alton Mullen and Joe Cleveland, and crane operators Windell Farr and Calvin Kocurek have been promoted to potroom unit supervisors.

Mowdy, a native of Cameron and graduate of Yoe High School, joined Alcoa as a production helper in 1968. He also worked as a pot tender.

Mueck, a U. S. Army veteran from Cameron, began his Alcoa career in 1954. He has held potroom and carbon plant responsibilities.

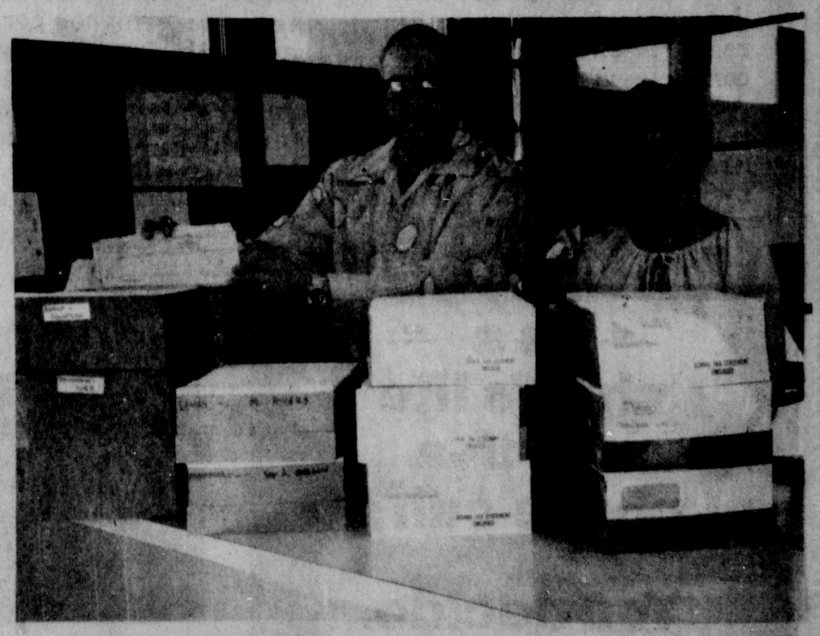
Garcia, born in Giddings, joined Alcoa's utility department shortly after plant construction was completed in 1953. He and his family live in Dime Box.

Mullen, a native of Florence, joined the company's labor pool in 1973. The U. S. Air Force veteran and his family make their home in Lexington.

Cleveland, a native of Waco and graduate of Rockdale High School, joined Rockdale Works as a production helper in 1969 after two years at Texas A&M University.

Kocurek, born in Deanville and a resident of Caldwell, joined the company's utility department in 1954. He has held various positions in the Central Texas plant's potroom and carbon plant.

Farr, a native of Estilline and graduate of Taylor High School, joined Rockdale Works in 1954. He has worked as a tapper carbon changer and a pot tender. Farr and his family reside in Taylor.



IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN - Time for school tax notices, along with city and county notices, to hit the U. S. Mails in an annual flood. Theo Aschenbeck, school tax assessor-collector, and clerk Becky Goeke show some 4200 notices which, if all were paid, would bring in $441,000 in cash for the schools.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As I hear it, there's a lot of concern around the country over public education these days. People are pointing out that a student can finish high school and still not be able to read and write. In fact, it's gotten to where lots of times a high school diploma is about the equivalent of what a grammar school diploma used to be, and a college degree is the equivalent of what a high school diploma used to be.

To back this up, experts point out that scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test for high school seniors have worsened. As I understand it, the tests indicate among other things how much a student has learned, and for the past few years they indicate he's learning less and less.

This naturally has troubled school leaders and they've been hunting for answers. You suppose they're looking in the wrong places?

I mean, this is none of my business but since I'm not running for President and can therefore afford to put my foot in my mouth, I was just wondering: has anybody thought of giving the school faculties across the nation a Scholastic Aptitude Test? Since I've gone this far I might as well as, has anybody thought of giving boards of turstees the tests? School principals? Superintendents? University regents? State legislators? Governors? Congressmen? I don't have time to take it myself.

Even though it may be too late, I will now change the subject. I notice that the 1977 model cars are going to get more miles per gallon of gas, some even a third more than cars did three years ago.

Conservationists say this can be translated into a 33 percent saving in the nation's consumption of gasoline, but this may be a statistic with holes in it. What it may mean is that people will simply drive a third more. It's sort of like the overweight beer drinker who was delighted when he found out about the new brands of beer containing one-third less calories than the other brands. "Here's where I can lose some weight," he said, but he didn't. What he wound up doing was drinking a third more.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Cronkite On Journalism...

Your Herald has about a half dozen high school and college-age people contributing various skills to this 117-year-old newspaper. We recall dozens of others. Training them is an imperative in producing this newspaper.

Perhaps they and Milam readers would appreciate some remarks by Walter Cronkite, the network television commentator and one time journalism student at the University of Texas, upon receiving the DeWitt Carter Reddick Award "for achievement in communication."

Cronkite said, in part, a couple of years ago:

QUOTE:

I'm proud of the physical courage shown by many of our craft--in war and civil insurrection and in dozens of less spectacular ways.

I'm proud of those who have the courage to expose the culpable, even when they know they might hurt the innocent. I'm proud of those who have the courage to reject the favors of the newsmakers; who do not become part of the newsmakers; who do not become part of the establishment; who preserve access to the inner circle without becoming members of it.

I'm proud of those with courage to withstand the wrath of their neighbors and face social ostracism in pursuit of the truth.

I'm proud of those who have the courage to reject the conformity of camaraderie among colleagues and hold onto their vision of the truth even while others around seem blind to it.

I'm proud, too, of all those who work in the backrooms of the media--on rewrite, copy desks, assignment desks, editing film and tape--professionals all whose devotion to this business may be greater even than that of the stars they make look good.

. . .We are not always fair and just. There is not a man who can truthfully say that he does not harbor in his breast prejudice, bias, strong sentiments pro and con on some, if not all the issues of the day.

Yet it is the distinguishing character of the professional journalist that he can set aside these personal opinions in reporting the day's news. None of us succeeds in this task in all instances, but we know the assignment and the pitfalls and we succeed far, far more often then we fail--or that our critics would acknowledge.

END OF QUOTE

Have You Registered?

We of course urge Countians and people in the Milam Area to register for the vote in 1976 general elections.

Forms for Milam registration are available at the County Tax Office and Safeway in Cameron, Gaither Motor Co. and Rep. Dan Kubiak's office in Rockdale.

Officials have noted people are failing to identify their precinct and are leaving off their signatures. The registration form is not complete without both.

Some 10,000 have already registered, but others may have overlooked the formality which qualifies them to vote in the November elections.

If registrants will include the community in which they live, officials say they can identify the precinct for the prospective voters.

Registration deadline is Friday, October 1.

With predictions of a low turnout across the nation, the smaller counties and towns will have a proportionately larger role in government if they vote a higher percentage of eligible citizenships.

The Democratic primary brought out more than 6,000. Perhaps the presidential elections will attract even more in the Milam area.

State Seeks Record Voter Turnout

Massive efforts are under way to make 1976 a record year for voter eligibility in Texas in spite of apparent apathy in most areas of the U.S.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr., who is coordinating the statewide drive, predicts that as many as 6.2 million will be registered by the October 3 deadline for eligibility to vote in the November 2 election.

That figure would be about 75 per cent of the total eligible by age and residence and would represent a jump of a million voters from 1972, the previous high.

About four million application forms have been prepared for distribution to labor unions, employers, institutions, drivers' license offices, churches, civic clubs, beauty shops and grocery stores.

Cooperating organizations include labor unions, the Democratic party and a variety of minority groups.

Changes in the election laws last year made it easier to register in Texas than in any other state, according to White.

Voters who have received their blue certificate cards from county tax assessor-collectors, already are registered and don't need to rush to the courthouse or look up a registration deputy.

Those who have no blue card and are U.S. citizens, at least 18 years old and residents of the state can still become eligible to vote in the presidential election if their applications are delivered to a deputy before midnight October 3.

White thinks voters are, at last, beginning to get interested in politics this year, and that a warming presidential campaign will boom the election day turnout.

Bond Fight On

A major battle is developing over the proposed $400 million water bond issue to be voted on November 2.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe recently named Paul G. Veale of McAllen to head a statewide committee working for passage of the bonds. Briscoe maintains the bonds are necessary to meet Texas water requirements.

A coalition of environmentalists has opened a campaign against passage of the bond amendment to the constitution, claiming there is no real justification for a "crash program" and that interest rates would be unlimited.

Credit Good

Texas cities and counties in general have good credit ratings, according to Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

Of 27 largest Texas cities, 25 have bond ratings of "A" or better. Austin, Dallas and Houston have the highest ratings — Aaa. Forty-one counties have "A" ratings or better, and 45 counties have no long-term debt. Credit ratings are an indication of financial health of local government.

New Approach Charted

Texas Animal Health Commission has ordered a new approach to the brucellosis program in Texas to control and eradicate the dread livestock disease.

The new program would seek to raise immunity to the disease through an all-out calfhood vaccination program for five years and then return to a "test and slaughter" program hopefully amended by better diagnostic tools perfected by research.

The state brucellosis study committee report will be sent to the U.S. Animal Health Association Brucellosis Committee as a guideline for negotiating support of USAHA for a Texas program following recommendations laid down by the study panel.

AG Opinions

Information on cost, type and use of electronic eavesdropping equipment used by police is public, Atty. Gen. John Hill said.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A member of the Dental Laboratory Advisory Board vacates his office when he moves his residence outside the state.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Luecke:

I noticed that you received a letter from Comptroller Bob Bullock which referred to remarks I made concerning the budget for 1978-79 the Comptroller has requested for his agency. I think a look at the figures will bear out my earlier remarks.

The final legislative appropriation to the Office of Comptroller of Public Accounts before Mr. Bullock went into office was $32,702,652 for 1974-75. The Legislature in 1975--appropriated to him $70,520,679. (This does not include an "emergency" appropriation Mr. Bullock received in early 1975 of $472,000.) Now Comptroller Bullock has asked for a new budget totalling $109,-793,684. That, by itself, is an increase of 56 percent over his present budget. Furthermore, it means that Comptroller Bullock has requested a budget that is 236 percent more than the last budget of the previous adminstration--all in the span of 2 1/2 years.

When was the last time you heard of anyone getting 236 percent, or even 56 percent more money to spend in their budget?

Several important factors are conspicuously left out of explanations for increased taxes and revenue in Texas' treasury--inflation, the general state of Texas' and the State's natural growth. These factors should be credited with much of the State's increased revenue. (Why, even the Comptroller admits there will be 16 percent increase in the number of taxpayers over the next two years. Who's to say what increase in revenue in the past two years has been realized from natural growth in the number and types of taxpayers?)

Please don't misunderstand. I'm not saying the Comptroller is doing a bad job or a good job. I was only stressing the importance of the Legislature looking closely at every state agency's budget request. Every state agency needs to tighten up its fiscal belt because today's economic situation dictates that this be done.

As a taxpayer and a voter, as much as a Representative who shares the responsibility for how your tax dollars are spent, I simply want to see that we taxpayers get a dollar's worth of work for every tax dollar we give our agencies to spend.

Sincerely,
Dan Kubiak

A Super Bargain . . . Numbers Of Cattle On Feed Declines . . . Milk Production Up And Down.

Whether you buy your beef in a supermarket or from the corner grocery, the fact remains: beef is a super bargain. And it's likely to continue that way through the rest of this year.

The unfortunate part of this story is the producer. He is the one who continues to take a beating. Cattle prices to producers are now a fourth below what they were a year ago.

Cattlemen continue to liquidate their herds in an attempt to get supply and demand back in some sort of balance so the cattle producer can have hopes of improving his economic situation next year.

And as that situation continues, more beef comes to market lowering the cattlemen's price and in turn providing consumers with bargains in beef.

Beef prices to consumers are down from levels of a year ago, but have not yet reflected all the declines that producers have taken.

But beef continues to be probably your best food buy today. And now is the time to enjoy it.

CATTLE ON FEED in Texas as of Sept. 1 totaled 1,470,000 head, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is 10 per cent above a year ago, but is one per cent below last month. During August, Texas cattle feeders placed 337,000 head into their lots. Placements are 25 per cent above a year ago and 29 per cent above the previous month.

In the seven major feeding states -- Texas, California, Arizona, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska -- cattle on feed as of Sept. 1 totaled 6,432,000 head. This is eight per cent above last year's record low number. It is also six per cent below the same date in 1974.

The number on feed on Sept. 1 was above last year in five of the seven states.

MILK PRODUCTION in Texas is up and down. August milk production totaled 278,000,000 pounds; this is five per cent above production of a year ago in August, but is two per cent below last month.

Production per cow averaged 870 pounds during August, which is 70 pounds above a year ago and is 15 pounds below the previous month.

Nationwide, milk production during August was 5.7 per cent above a year ago.

FLY LAB OFFICIALS at the screwworm eradication headquarters at Mission remind livestock producers to continue their efforts in keeping the screwworm infestations at as low a level as possible.

Freezing weather will put a halt to the increases of the pest, but until then, all livestock producers are reminded to check their livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm-control remedies, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission.

Bad Cattle Business Not News To Producer

By Billy M. McCutchen

The fact that the cattle business is bad and has been bad for quite a while is not news to anyone. When the cattle business will be operating in the black again no one really knows. Most economists say that a lot of cows will have to come to market before the situation gets much better.

A lot of cows have gone to market the last couple of years, the fallacy is that cattlemen have been selling cows and keeping heifers. At least this has been the general trend in Milam County and I understand this has been the case elsewhere. This trend has not cut down much on cow numbers and beef is still glutting the market.

More than one Milam County cattleman has gone broke during the past couple of years. Most have survived however, because they are not totally dependent on beef cattle for their livelihood. A typical producer in the county has 25 to 50 head of mother cows. The cattle business is a sideline to farming, a business, or an 8 to 5 job that keeps groceries on the table.

The full time rancher and many of the part time cattlemen are going to keep their breeding herds no matter what happens. Quiet a few others it seems are getting fed up with the cattle business and don't want to put up with the time and expense of wintering those cows again only to take another loss the next year.

How wide spread this feeling is, I don't know, but I have heard this sentiment more than once in the past couple of months. If this thinking persists throughout the beef industry we may well be on our way towards better prices.

One facet of the beef industry has made money last year and may do so again. Stocker calves on winter pastures broke some big operators a few years ago, but have made money for some since then.

For those who can establish early winter pastures profits are possible. A close look at the expected costs, risk and management, as well as the returns, will make the decision of whether to sell or keep weaned calves or to buy stockers easier.

Stocker calf operations are recognized as a method of making or losing money quickly. A falling cattle market from when the calves are started on winter pastures to when the calves are sold can be disastrous.

Wheat Estimate Revised Upward After Rains

AUSTIN–According to the July Texas grain crop estimate, 1976 winter wheat production is expected to reach 98.7 million bushels, up from last month's prediction of only 70.2 million bushels.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White explained that although this is less than last year's record crop of 131.1 million bushels, the more optimistic crop estimate is "welcome news."

"The dryland wheat crop in the western half of the High Plains has been completely destroyed by the drought," White said. "But in the eastern protion, the wheat is looking better than initially anticipated."

In the updated crop report, yield per acre is set at 21 bushels with harvested acreage up to 4.7 million. Last month's estimate for the state was 18 bushels per acre and 3.9 million acres for harvest.

July estimates for other grain crops are: rye, 16 bushels per acre, 35,000 acres for harvest, 560,000 bushels.

Soviets Test US Grain On Poultry

LUBBOCK

The Sviet Union announced that it has begun an experimental poultry feeding project using U. S. grain sorghum.

Soviet agricultural researchers are comparing feeding efficiency and nutritive value of U. S. number two yellow sorghum to corn and to grain components conventionally used in broiler diets in the USSR.

The poultry demonstration, jointly sponsored by the U. S. Feed Grains Council and the Soviet government, is a result of the sales expansion program of Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, retired poultry specialist from Texas A&M University, will go to the Soviet Union Oct. 10 to oversee the project. He will be joined later by officials of the USFGC, including President Darwin Stolte of Washington, D.C.

Sorghum to be used in the experiment was shipped in early July by Soviet vessel to the All-Union Research and Technological Poultry Institute experimental farm near Moscow.

Detailed plans for the feeding trial were finalized in Moscow May 10, 1976 at a meeting of Soviet agricultural officials with Dr. Halvor Kolshus, USFGC European director, and Dr. Quisenberry. Preliminary plans were prepared by a grain sorghum team headed by Elbert Harp, execuive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and Jack King, GSPA research director, during a series of seminars in Eastern Euroe and Russia last fall.

Poage Asks Research On Brush

Rep. W. R. Poage, U. S. Congressman from the 11th Congressional District of Texas, has asked the U. S. Department of Agriculture to mount an all-out brush control research effort at the Forage and Grasslands Research Center near Temple.

In a letter to Dr. T. W. Edminster, Administrator of the Agricultural Research Service, Rep. Poage pointed out that a major federal research effort is needed in the Southwest to find an economical and effective control for mesquite and other associated woody and herbaceous noxious plants which decrease the productivity of millions of acres of range and pasturelands.

Rep. Poage said, "In Texas alone there are 92 million acres of range and pastureland infested with mesquite and other brush spieces and more are being infested each year. If we are going to stop the spread of this brush and return our rangelands to their high productive state we must mount an intensive research effort now."

Prospects for '76 Pecan Crop Dimmed by Insects, Disease

AUSTIN--The first estimates for the 1976 Texas pecan crop indicate that production will be a dismal 60 percent below last year.

According to the September 1 crop report issued by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, only 27 million pounds will be harvested, down from the 1975 crop of 68 million pounds.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported that in every state in the U.S. except North Carolina, production is down, and that nationwide, the 1976 crop is forecast to be 54 percent below last year, down to 112.6 million pounds.

"Growers in the Trans-Pecos report that a moderate to good crop has been set there," White said.

"But elsewhere, disease and insects, as well as a late spring freeze and a late summer drought, have taken their toll."

In addition, White noted that since pecan trees usually do not bear two consecutive heavy crops, producers had not been anticipating an outstanding crop again this year.

Producers Should Prepare Now For '77 Farm Bill

"If farmers expect to influence 1977 food policy issues, it is time for them to begin planning, organizing, and acting."

The reason for this is that the position of many political decisionmakers will be molded in the upcoming election, notes Dr. Ronald D. Knutson, economist in agricultural policy and marketing for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"In the matter of food policy, producers can no longer be passive. At last count there were 26 agencies involved in decisions affecting food policy," points out the economist.

After the election, time for acting on new farm legislation will be short. "The impact of alternative agricultural and food policies is already being analyzed, and bills will soon be drafted. Ability to influence beings with an understanding of the issues," contends Knutson.

"The overriding issue is the degree of government involvement in agriculture," he emphasizes. "The Democrats favor increased government involvement on a variety of fronts while the Republicans favor a 'free market,' or less government involvement.

"In the upcoming elections, most changes in farm policy will likely occur if the Democrats win," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Democrats traditionally have been more willing to involve government in agriculture and have the image of being producer oriented. But if labor and consumer activists play a major role in electing a Democratic President, traditional producer orientation may be neutralized, lost, or forgotten. Food reserves, higher target prices, consolidated and subsidized disaster programs, and expanded food aid are integral parts of this program of increased government involvement."

If the Republicans are elected, producers can expect a continuation of present freer market programs. "There is a desire to maintain a minimum of government restriction on production and prices. Price stability is not an objective of the free market approach. Instead prices are free to move in response to both domestic and international forces. However, when prices become 'too high' or supplies 'too short,' government has become involved by means of export controls or price controls," notes Knutson.

As far as specific issues are concerned, the economist lists these--grain reserves, target prices and loan rates, commodity programs, disaster payments, acreage allotments, and food aid.

Advocates of grain reserves argue that these will increase price stability, ruduce risk, reduce the need to impost export embargoes, and increase consumer assurance of an adequate and dependable food supply. On the other hand, free market advocates say that reserves will distort market signals, depress farm prices, and discourage importing countries from holding reserves. They also contend that reserves are subject to government manipulation and are costly to manage and hold. Knutson notes that each of the positions has merit. There is no easy answer.

To many producers, the level of target prices and loan rates is the major farm policy issue. Both target prices and loan rates can be used by government as a partial incentive to either stimulate or reduce production according to market needs. Currently target prices and loan rates are well below production costs. Some producers would like to see more protection from falling prices.

Although few farm commodity programs still exist--peanuts are of prime interest in Texas--there is a general trend toward general farm programs that apply to all commodities, explains the economist. Most commodity programs that control production are in trouble, yet there is little debate over the need to retain standby set-aside authority.

Regarding disaster payments, two programs currently cover production disasters due to weather--the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation program and the Commodity Credit Corporation. The FCIC is voluntary and self-financing and is available for more than 20 crops although not in all areas of the country. On the other hand, the CCC program covers only five crops--upland cotton, wheat, corn, sorghum, and barley--and provides disaster protection only to producers with acreage allotments. CCC payments come from the federal treasury. There is concern about federal costs and duplication between the two programs, with some discussion toward a producer-government insurance cost sharing program.

As far as acreage allotments are concerned, producers currently receive target price deficiency payments or disaster payments only on allotted acres. One proposal would eliminate allotments by making all current production eligible for support loans, target price deficiency payments, and disaster payments.

Mrs. Katie Lee Luckey, 83, of Rockdale died Friday night in a Rockdale nursing home.

Funeral was at 2 p.m. Sunday in Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home in Rockdale with the Rev. D. D. Simpson officiating. Burial was in the Pleasant Hill Cemetery near Rockdale.

Mrs. Luckey was born in Washington County.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Baker of Rockdale and Mrs. Margie Thompson of Las Vegas, Nev.; one brother, Larkin McNeil of Rockdale; one sister, Mrs. Leonard Ashley of Rockdale; seven grandchildren, four step-grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, and two step great great grandchildren.

Shaw

George Edward Shaw, brother of Mrs. Albert Epperson of Cameron, died Tuesday, Sept. 21 at John Cockran Veteran's Hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Shaw, 45, had been ill for several years. He was born at Kane, Ill., where he lived all his life.

He is survived by his wife; two children; one grandson, his mother; two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral service was held on Friday, Sept. 24 at the Church of Christ in Kane with the Rev. Charles Scroggins officiating. Burial was in the Kane Cemetery under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

VA Mails Clothing Allowance

A once-a-year Veterans Administration payment totaling more than $9 million was mailed recently to disabled veterans who wear prostheses.

Annual clothing allowance checks for $175 have been mailed to almost 52,000 service-disabled veterans, the VA Regional director Jack Coker, reported today.

Veterans compensated by the VA for service-connected disabilities, requiring use of prosthetic or orthopedic appliances, receive the allowance to offset expenses incurred in wear and tear on clothing. Appliances considered include artificial limbs, braces, and wheelchairs.

Coker explained that after initial application, veterans on VA compensation rolls receive the annual allowance automatically.

Military retirees with disabilities requiring use of prosthetic devices, but who are not receiving VA compensation, must make application each year for the clothing allowance. Retirees are not required to waive any portion of their retirement pay to receive the allowance, Coker noted.

Place extra towel bars one above the other over the bathtub to hang stockings and underwear to drip dry.

Becker

Charlie W. Becker, 73, of Rt. 1, Lott, died Saturday morning in a Marlin hospital after a long illness.

Funeral was at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Grace Lutheran Church in Marlin with the Rev. Bert Kline officiating. Burial was in the Calvary Cemetery in Marlin.

Mr. Becker was born in the Battle Community in McClenan County. He spent most of his life in that community and in Falls County. He was a retired farmer and rancher and a member of the Grace Lutheran Church in Marlin.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cherry Becker of Rt. 1, Lott; three daughters, Mrs. Bernice Cowart of Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. LaVerne Cockerham of Lott and Mrs. Charline Okonski of Bryan; one brother, Henry Becker of Mart; one sister, Mrs. Lydia Zipperlen of Rosebud; and seven grandchildren.

2 Churches To Observe Special Day

World - Wide Communion Day will be observed this Sunday at the worship services at the Maysfield and First Methodist churches of Cameron.

Special music will be presented by the chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Tommy Corley. Mrs. Hilliard Thomas will pay the organ and Rev. Stanley Vodicka Jr. will conduct the services at both churches.

The World - Wide Communion offering will be divided between the Crusade Scholarship program, the Minority Scholarship program and the work of the chaplains who serve in a military or a civilian capacity.

Church school begins at 9:45 a.m. at the Cameron church and morning worship begins at 10:55 a.m.

HOT Fair Promises Variety

So you want to learn to raise worms, have your ears pierced, sign up for a flying course, buy some wooden flowers which smell like real flowers, have your hair styled, examine Indian jewelry, or ceramics?

Visitors to the General Exhibits building at the Heart O'Texas Fair and Rodeo, Oct. 5-19, may do all of these things and more too, according to Bill Parsons, who runs this part of the big fall fair.

"The people who visit our building (without charge) can check out water beds from Spokane, Wash.; sit in vibrating recliners, eat fudge candy look at leather goods, and talk politics (the Democrats will have a booth and so will Republicans Jack Burgess and Alan Steelman)," said Parsons. There are too many other interesting things to list.

All the booths are sold, and there is a waiting list in case some firm drops out, but one thing is puzzling Parsons:

"For the first time in 19 years, not one TV dealer has reserved booth space!" said Parsons.

Ropers Set Play Night

The Milano Roping Club will sponsor a play night Saturday, October 2 at 8 p.m. at the Milano Roping Club arena near Bodes Livestock Auction.

Tack will be given in all 12 and under age group events. There will be a jackpot given for the winner in the 13-17 class and 18 and over events.

Events include Western pleasure, clover leaf and straight away barrels, pole bending, flag relay, flag exchange, tie down, breakaway and ribbon roping, boot race, tunnel race and egg race.

Ideally, men should be brothers. But it doesn't always work that way. Race, language and sometimes even a difference in ideas can be a barrier.

Throughout the world, there is a force that unites man. Always the Church has proclaimed the dignity of each person, as well as the true meaning of togetherness.

We especially need that unity today. On Worldwide Communion Sunday, go to church and pray for tolerance, for understanding. Join with the millions who will be praying, even as you are.

These are the things that make for peace.

'Respect Life Week' At St. Edward

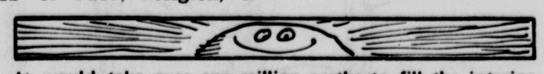
St. Edward Hospital-Rischar Memorial will demonstrate during Respect Life Week how the Catholic Church's mission of health care contributes to the physical, psychological, emotional, and spiritual well being of all its patients. The activities begin here on Monday, Oct. 4.

For the third consecutive year, St. Edward Hospital will participate in Respect Life Week activities, sponsored nationally Oct. 3 to 10 by the St. Louis-based Catholic Hospital Association.

Emphasis will be placed on the spiritual as well as the physical treatment of the "whole" persons, regardless of race, religion, or financial status, said Sister Mary Pauline, administrator.

Throughout the week, St. Edward Hospital will show our community how "we provide scientific medical care, which is personally administered and socially responsive, to meet all patient needs."

Moreover, St. Edward Hospital will spell out its position on the Christian teachings of faith and morals relevant to the health care ministry. Issues to be discussed include care of the chronically ill and the aging, as well as anti-abortion and anti-euthanasia measures.



It would take over one million earths to fill the interior of the sun.

Lower Pork Prices Seen This Fall

Consumers should find lower pork prices, as reports indicate more pork supplies for the rest of the year, according to Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

Lower pork prices are likely because of increased supplies -- and because of competition with beef and poultry products, she explained.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"The pork spotlight is mostly on smoked cuts -- namely, semi- boneless hams, picnics and some brands of bacon.

"A few 'kind - to - your budget' buys will appear also on Boston butt roasts, end chops and quarter - loins cut into chops," she added.

At beef counters, Mrs. Clyatt termed the following cuts "economical:" chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver.

At poultry sections, she reported some "specials" on fryer chickens -- along with many features on turkey.

Reunion

On September 4, 1976, decendants and friends of the Nelson family met at the Fiesta Grounds in Cameron.

A short program started the celebration with Mrs. Frank Walker of Austin presiding. Prayer was recited by Rev. Boyd of Rockdale.

The history of the family was given by Mrs. Willie V. Morgan of Bremond. Gifts were presented to persons traveling the fartherest. A flower was presented to Mrs. Artelia Lewis from Griffin Chapel by Mrs. Poole. Mrs. Lewis represented the Mother of five generations. Yoe Faces Tigers In Milam County Classic

As one jingle goes "To be, Number One is to be Misunderstood." But one thing about Rockdale they are Number One and definitely not misunderstood. In their first three outings their message was clear to Brenham, Taylor and Marlin.

Rockdale has rolled up enough experience in the past year against some of the toughest 3A competitors and for the '76 season has laced it with another roll call of 3A competition.

First, the Tigers whipped Brenham, 21-9 followed by Taylor 35-6. Against Marlin the Tigers issued a pounding, 31-0.

It adds up to 87 offensive points while the Blue-Gold defense has held their opponents to 15 total points. Giving way to an offensive average of 29 per game to a defense that holds the opposition to only 5 points.

Last season the Tigers offense averaged an overwhelming 47 points per game. The average was marred by the Yoemen who held the Tigers to only 19 points. The Yoemen won that game 22-19.

Rockdale is rated Number One in every poll and has lived up to every expectation by pointing out three golden victories.

The Tigers have all the ingredients for state picked winning team. Returning 8 defensive starters and 4 offensive regulars from their '75 11-2 Tiger team.

The Milam County classic will be played before an overloaded, packed and standing room only crowd when the district title might be decided in the opening night of District 23-AA competition.

For the Tigers size is the second ingredient of their team. From the offensive line the Tigers average 183 pounds and the offensive backfield weighs in at 168 pounds per man.

From the defensive line the Tigers will have a stronghold averaging 198 pounds. The defensive line will be backed up by a defensive secondary which average 170 pounds.

The final ingredient that the Tigers will depend on is speed. According to Rockdale Coach Fred Johnson the Tigers will have more backfield speed than the 1975 Tigers.

Manning the Tiger offensive backfield will be Robert Luetge #31 (185) along with speedster Don Westley #42 (135). Locklin will be barking the plays for the Tigers.

Westley is a very effective runner in the open field and Luetge will add power up the middle. Locklin is a good runner and passer.

The Tigers will be looking for their first win against the Yoemen in 5 years. Coach Fred Johnson's Tigers have never defeated a Cauley coached Yoe team.

It will be marked as the Classic in the 2A ranks and will be a feature game for the entire CenTex area. Standing room will be at a premium, while there will be no reserved tickets remaining.

Yoe Girls Battle In Tourney

Yoe girls played five games in the 16 team Killeen Tourney and in the final game the Yoe volleyballers faced Caldwell for the Consolation title.

It was the second game for the Yoe fems on Saturday and the fifth in two days. Caldwell won the match and the consolation title, 15-13, and 15-10.

Janet Angel toed the service line for 6 points followed by Carole Morris with 5. Debra Fleming and Denise Drgac both had 4 points.

It was the second time that the Yoe girls had faced the district competitors and Caldwell stands 2 up on the Yoe fems.

In the first match on Saturday morning the Yoe girls faced a tough 4A Bryan girls team and with fine serves from Denise Drgac the Yoettes won, 15-4 and 15-10.

Drgac had 14 points from the line followed by Evelyn Pittman with 7.

The Yoe girls played three games Friday and dropped into the consolation bracket after losing the opener against 4A Temple.

It took a third game after both teams split wins in the first two games. Yoe won 14-11 followed by Temple with 14-10 and in the final Temple overpowered the Yoettes, 15-3.

Debra Fleming toed the line for 9 followed by Janet Angel with 5.

The Yoettes returned to the Killeen High gym at 2:30 p.m. and faced the Killeen JV. Yoe won 13-11 and 17-15 to advance against Rosebud-Lott.

At 7:30 p.m. the Yoettes returned for their third match of the day against a district competitor Rosebud-Lott.

Yoe won the first game, 15-12 and in the second game Rosebud-Lott won 15-12. In the final game the Yoettes held onto a 13-10 lead as the clock ran out of time.

Diana Chubb led the service scoring with 12 followed by Fleming with 8. Drgac and Pittman both had 7 points from the line.

FORREST GUESS

NO SEATS. . .

In the Yoe High Principal's office you would have thought there was a gold rush. The rush, of course, was for the "gold" reserved tickets for the Milam County Classic between rivals Cameron and Rockdale.

Yoe Principal Jack Chubb said that Section A which is regularly general admission has been converted into reserved tickets (with exception of part of the section).

From all Rockdale indications the reserved tickets have been sold out. Cameron also has no reserved tickets available.

Chubb said, "We are going to try and secure some portable bleachers to set up in the end zone. We will try and offer both Cameron and Rockdale fans as comfortable seating as possible."

It is quite a chore to accommodate the numerous fans and CenTex football fans which always pack the stadium for the high school classic.

An added dimension of this year's game is the fact of being district foes which has increased the pressure of the game.

TRAIN BELL. . .

I received a letter from a former Yoe High grad that offers his reflections on the "Bell."

The letter was received from Herman Koranek, a 1960 Yoe grad, who presently serving in the Navy in Virginia.

The letter is as follows:

"I am a 1960 graduate of C. H. Yoe High School in Cameron, Texas.

"I have dabbled in a little poetry and I have written the following poem about my school experience in the Rockdale-Cameron football game. Perhaps this poem may be worthy of being published in the Cameron Herald the week prior to the Yoe-Rockdale game:

Each year the Cameron and Rockdale
football teams meet and give it Hell,

Fighting over an old Train Bell,
The winning side from the year before
Gets to ring the bell each time their team scores
The two teams meet out on shoulder pad junction and battling for that bell is their only function.
The losing team can hardly stand the strain
That bell was once just a part of a Choo-Choo Train."

Koranek is presently on active duty making a career of the U. S. Navy and is a Yeoman First Class stationed in Norfolk, Virginia.

Thanks---- He's a true Yoeman (Yeoman).

CAULEY SAID. . .

ROCKDALE

"Rockdale can beat you so many ways. They have the running and passing threats. They also have the speed to score everytime you kick.

"They have the balance of a great football team. They have the size, quickness and speed.

"They have a team that you can not relax against. We cannot afford to relax at anytime against them.

"Offensively we must remove all the mistakes in critical situations to be able to move against them.

INJURIES

"All injuries should be well. As of last Thursday we had 8 starters out. Because of the virus, sore throat or injury.

"We are just hoping that we can get our strength back by this Friday. Ronald Cobb and David Raymond are both doing fine and are to have a check - up sometime this week. (Both Ronald and David have received broken legs this season).

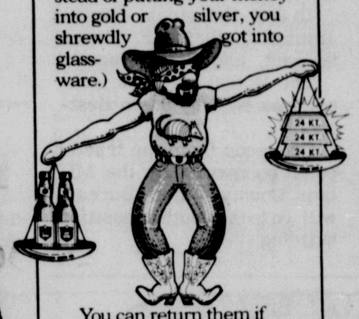
HOW TO GET A LIFETIME SUPPLY OF LONE STAR LONG NECKS FOR 84¢.

It's a pain to come up with that 84¢ deposit on your first case of Lone Star Long Necks. But you're home free on every other case you buy.

You know what this means? A never-ending supply of the legendary Long Neck bottles. Forever. Perpetually eternal. For time

You can pass them on in your will just like your other worldly possessions.

You can consider them a hedge against inflation. (Instead of putting your money into gold or silver, you shrewdly got into glassware.)



You can return them if you want to rub your nickels together again.

But you'll probably want to bring them back to the place you bought them. This way you can end up with something even more valuable than a case of Long Necks.

A case of Long Necks full of Lone Star Beer.

Yoe Splits Wins With Taylor Ducks

The Yoe JV and freshmen team split wins with Taylor last Thursday night in Taylor. The Yoe JV defeated the Ducks, 21-8 while the Yoe frosh lost 25-6.

The teams were scheduled to play in the opening game of the season but the games were called off due to rain earlier this year.

Both Taylor and Cameron had open dates and the game was rescheduled.

In the freshmen game Taylor used their powerful running game to score 19 points in the first half.

The first Duck score came when Yoe running back Dennis Rosemond coughed up the ball on a sweep and a Taylor defender ran it back for the touchdown.

The Taylor point after attempt was good and the Ducks led, 7-0.

The Ducks increased their lead to 13-0 on a sweep around left end for a 60 yard TD.

It looked like an instant replay in the second quarter when Rosemond was again stripped of the ball and the Ducks gained good field position on the Yoe 20.

Three plays later the Ducks owned the game, 19-0.

The final Duck score came in the 3rd quarter after the completition of a 40 yard pass and fine open field running by the Duck backfield.

The Yoe freshmen scored their only touchdown in the final quarter when Dow Dodd scored on a quarterback roll out from 18 yards out. The 2 point conversion try failed.

In the JV game the Yoemen were able to increase their season record to 2-1.

In the first quarter Lawrance Lowe opened the Yoe scoring on a 40 yard run on the 1st offensive possession. The boot on the PAT was good by David Rinn and the Yoemen lead, 7-0.

Taylor came back late in the first quarter and took the lead when they were successfull on the 2 point conversion.

In the second quarter QB Wayne Steamer connected with Billy Pittman on a 45 yard pass to give the Yoemen the lead again, 13-8.

In the final stanza Pittman rambled 60 yards to the Taylor 5 yard line to set up the final Yoe TD. Lawrance Lowe plunged into the end zone on the following play to give the Yoemen a 21-8 lead.

Defensive standouts for the Yoe JV included Charles Hardman, Billy Pair and Mike Marek. Marek recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter to set up the final Yoe TD.

In the freshmen game Coach Ken Poole said that defensive end Terry Lowe, defensive tackle Greg Landmark and outside linebacker Chris Riola all did a good job.

The Yoe freshmen and JV will travel to Rockdale to open their district play. The freshmen game will begin at 6 p.m. followed by the JV game at 7:30.

High Potency Vitamin E
Sexual Potency Quickly Improves With New 'E-Pill'

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Special)—An amazing new "super-charged" vitamin E-Pill has recently been developed that reportedly "quickly increases and rejuvenates sexual drives and potency for both men and women of all ages. It also makes them feel healthier and more youthful". It is now available to the American public.

The new high potency E-Pill not only seems to increase sexual ability of both sexes but also "actually perks up sexual interest and stimulates a persons desires," according to a spokesman for the manufacturer.

ALSO IMPROVES GENERAL HEALTH

This new, easy-to-take E-Pill contains newly formulated, highly concentrated vitamin E. It tends to quickly build up and strengthen the natural physiological processes of the body that are believed to be basically responsible for its potency, youthfulness, health and long life.

HELPS 4 OUT OF 5 PEOPLE

Indications are that the new E-Pill gives quick and effective results to as high as 4 out of 5 people (80%) who have used it. Some people report no great change but feel the high potency of vitamin E in the pill does quickly make them feel better from a general health standpoint.

Other reports also show it tends to "lessen daily tension and give a more relaxed, happier outlook on life."

NOW AVAILABLE

The use of these high potency (one-a-day) E-Pills is perfectly safe and are now available without prescription from the manufacturer by mail order only. To get your supply, send $6.95 for a 2 week supply, (or $10.95 for a 30 day supply, or $17.95 for a 60 day supply) cash, check or M.O. to: E-Pill, Dept. 516, 447 Merrick Road, Oceanside, N.Y. 11572. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.)
